Varicose Veins

DR. McLAUGHLIN OFFERS A PERMANENT CURE OR NO PAY.

Sapping the vigor of youth from the body of the unfortunate sufferer; eating away his courage, ambition and happiness day by day; causing him pain and languor; making him tired at night, weary in the morning, and rendering his life miserable in general, this terrible malady goes on, and there is no cure for it except the surgeon's knife or ELECTRICITY. Which will you choose?

DR. McLAUGHLIN'S ELECTRIC BELT CURES OR NO PAY.

I guarantee an absolute cure by my new method. You have only to wear my Belt while you sleep, with special attachment carrying the glowing current direct to the parts, washing out the stagnant blood, restoring vigorous circulation and new strength. It is a positive cure.

"Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt cured me of Varicose and weakness of ten years' standing. I shall always be grateful for it."—LOUIS FOSCALINA, Mokenia Hill, California.

CAUTION!—Don't accept imitations of my Belt. All imitations burn and blister when they have any current at all. Only the Belt I sell is safe. Test my Belt free or send for free book with full information. It will tell you if you have varicose. Inclose this ad.

A PROPOSAL

They had come in from the theater and gone into the kitchen for a bite. The Chinaman had set out the beer and sandwiches on the top of the chest in the laundry. She lighted every gas burner in sight, fetched the tray into the kitchen and got down the plates, while he opened the beer and filled the two glasses.

"There's oat-sandwiches," she said, puncturing each little pile with the tip of her finger as she spoke, "and sardine sandwiches and lettuce and mayonnaise sandwiches, and don't say 'and the sand which is on the floor,' because you say it every time, and it's become an old joke that was funny once, but isn't funny any more at all. Here, don't talk so much, and drink your beer. Here's success to you."

They drank to each other, she sitting on the deal table, clapping her heels together, he with his chair tilted back against the sink, grinning at her over the top of the glass.

"Huh," he exclaimed all of a sudden as he sat down his glass and glanced about him—"four burners going full blast in the kitchen at this hour! I want you to know that when we're married, young woman, I can't afford it."

"When we're—," she shouted, adding furiously, "Well, I do like that."

"Yes, I thought you would," he replied calmly.

"You thought—," she thought, she gasped, getting to her feet and gazing at him wide-eyed and breathless.

"I am, thou art, he is," he interrupted, beginning to laugh, "which means that I am quite determined to marry you, and he is—that is to say, your father is to give us his consent and bless us. I've been thinking at all over, and I've made up my mind that it will be for next Thursday at 20 minutes after 3."

"Oh, you have, have you?" she cried, breathing hard through her nose. "You might have asked me something about it."

"I didn't need to ask," he answered. "You see, I'm pretty sure all ready."

"Pretty sure!" she retorted. "Oh, this is fine! Oh, isn't this splendid! I just hate and loathe and detest and abhor you and abhor you!"

"Yes, yes, I know," he answered, putting up his hand. "Does Thursday night suit?"

"No, it doesn't suit!" she flashed back at him. "It will be when I say and choose—I mean—I mean—"

He stood with laughter, and her face blazed.

"I mean it won't ever be! Oh, I could—I could kill you!"

"I think it will be on Thursday," he said reflectively. "I'll call for you here in a carriage at 3:20, and in the meantime I'll see your father and his things."

She sank into a chair and let her hands drop into her lap, palms up, and drew a long breath or two, gazing at him helplessly and shaking her head.

"Well, of all the cool—"

"You will see that will give us time enough for supper, and then we can take the 8:15."

"What are you talking about?" she inquired deliberately. He went on unheeding:

"I got the tickets this afternoon."

"Tickets?" she asked, looking at him.

"Um-hum!" he answered, absently feeling in his inside pocket. "Here

THE BOY'S ESSAY.

The following highly original composition on the subject of water was recently read to an American boy in an English newspaper: "Water is found everywhere, especially when it rains as it did the other day, when our cellar was half full. Jane had to wear her father's rubber boots to get on for dinner. Onions make your eyes water and so does horseradish, when you eat too much."

"There are a good many kinds of water in the world—rain water, soda water, fire water and brine. Water is used for a good many things. Sailors use water to go to sea on. Water is a good thing to fire at boys with a squirt gun and to catch fishes in. My father caught a big one the other day, and when he pulled it out it was an eel. Nobody could be saved from drowning if there wasn't any water to pull them out of."

"Water is first rate to put fires out with. I love to go to a fire—see the men work at the engine. 'This is all I can think of about water—except the flood."

"Bryant must be a Christian Scientist," "Why?" "Oh, he doesn't seem able to get himself to believe that he is politically dead."

HIS CHIEF TREASURE.

Householder: "Gentlemen, you will find the silver on the dining room table, my wife's jewels in the left hand dresser drawer and a roll of bills in my trousers pocket, but only over my dead body shall you rob us of our cool."

LOUISIANA IS AROUSED

New Orleans, La. Oct. 22.—The alarm expressed by the Louisiana Sugar Plantations Association at its recent meeting, lest the Louisiana sugar industry would be sacrificed to reciprocity with Cuba, is growing. William Polk, a member of the legislature from Rapides Parish and a large sugar planter, just returned from New York, warned the sugar interests here that they are in great danger.

"I accidentally ascertained that the financiers of the metropolis are at present investing heavily in Cuban bonds," said the Louisiana planter, "in casual talks with business men whom I met in New York I was instructed that the capitalists making these investments are doing so under an impression that reciprocity arrangements would be made by the incoming President, that they feel sure of making an outlay in Cuban lands, and the heavy purchase of Cuban land through the Wall street speculators at the present time is very significant as indicating that they feel sure of reciprocity with Cuba will come. It will reduce the cost of sugar to within three cents a pound at New Orleans, and we cannot produce sugar at that price under present conditions."

"I had a conversation while in New York with a former resident of Louisiana who is now connected with the Trinidad Sugar Company of Cuba. He said that American influences are now being exerted to their utmost in favor of annexation, and he anticipated that within the next eight years the wishes of the annexationists would be gratified."

WHEN YOUR EYES ACHE.

Few people are aware what an excellent tonic a cold water bath is for the eyes. Not the ordinary sponge bath, with closed lids, but opening the eyes and holding them open for a minute or more in clear, cool water. To do this, take a teaspoonful of water and hold it close to the eye, against the face, and open the eye in it. Open and shut two or three times to wash out the eye, then dry with a soft towel.

Never rub the eyes; it is an exceedingly injurious practice, and children should be warned against it. If your eyes are weak, put a pinch of salt in the water, says Woman's Life.

To relieve a sty wet a compress of old linen with boiling water and lay on the sty. Repeat every minute several times, and do this once an hour as long as may be necessary. Good sight is among the greatest blessings of life and it behooves all, for their own sake, to take good care of their eyes.

When you have nothing to do, when you are simply resting, close your eyes and let them rest also. As long as the eyes are open they are at work, and oculists will tell you that the moisture of the closed lids is good for them. Never press the eyeball, as that flattens it and brings on premature loss of vision.

PACIFIC UNION OIL CO.

Located in the Famous Coalinga Oil Field of California.

Proven oil lands, completely surrounded by as rich oil-producing wells as there are in the State, yielding from 50 to 250 barrels per day.

Contract prices for oil at the Coalinga wells, 70 cents per barrel.

With twenty-five producing wells of 100 barrels each per day, you can make your own calculation as to profits.

The oil industry of California is in its infancy, yet many fortunes have been made by judicious and lucky investments in oil stock. Many more will be made in the near future.

The average advance on original sales of oil stock in twenty leading companies in California has been from $1 to $108 per share.

Oil lands have advanced from $1.25 to $1,000 and $2,000 per acre.

When the Pacific Union Oil Company has a number of producing wells on its property, its stock will have the same show for even a greater advance, as some oil stock has advanced from $1 to $1,500 per share.

The Pacific Union Oil Company has no salaried officers, and is controlled by well-known gentlemen of integrity, who will see that the money derived from the sale of stock will be legitimately applied to the development of its property.

For further information, apply to J. H. FISHER & CO., Stock and Bond Brokers, and Hawaiian agents for the sale of a limited amount of Pacific Union Oil Company stock, Stangenwald building, Merchant street, 1902-6mo
